Updated Order Types and Functionality Guide Now Available - TSX/TSXV Long Life Order Type and Functional Enhancements

An updated Order Types and Functionality Guide is now available reflecting changes arising from the implementation of the Long Life order type and functional enhancements on Toronto Stock Exchange (TSX) and TSX Venture Exchange* (TSXV).

The changes relating to the Long Life order type will be introduced on TSX and TSXV* on November 16, 2015. Long Life restrictions and allocation benefits will be enabled for the first set of symbols on November 30, 2015. Implementation details have been provided in Equities Trading Notices #2015-025 and #2015-035.

*(Approval by the BCSC of the TSXV rule amendments pertaining to the introduction of Specialty Price Crosses on TSXV has been approved; approval by the BCSC for the Long Life order type is pending. Approval for all TSXV rule changes from the other Commissions overseeing the TSXV has been received.)

For additional information regarding the Long Life order type and functional enhancements, please contact the Account Management Team.
